LONDON, APRIL 20.

BY a calculation made in France, the value of the imports during laſt year from the Iſlands of Hiſpaniola, Martinique, and Guadaloupe, into that kingdom, amounted to upwards of 97,000,000 of livres; about 4,000,000 l. ſterling.

Letters from Gottingen, of the 6th inſtant, poſitively aſſert, that Doctor Klinich, belonging to the Univerſity there, had actually cured upwards of 54 perſons of the [illegible], by the application of a Loadſtone.—He places the patient's faces towards the North, and touching the teeth [illegible], it procures them eaſe in three or four minutes.

A FRAGMENT.

"—mighty Abbas was the kind Support,
And Virtue, in a gay luxurious Court;
Alas great Monarch oft deplor'd alone
The anxious Cares which waits around a Throne.
Unhappy Fate of Kings!—though Crouds attend,
And on my fov'reign Will for Life depend;
Midſt thouſand Flatterers, Abbas wants a Friend.
Driv'n from my Court, thoſe worthy Perſian Lords,
Whoſe Fathers fav'd the Kingdom by their Swords;
By whoſe firm Loyalty the King was crown'd,
Great by their Toil, victorious by each Wound:
But, ah!—ill Councils force me to preſer
Thoſe Men, whoſe Treachery I ought to fear:
Vile Selim's Sons, Agrantes' guilty Race,
Wretches who owe their Lives to the mild Grace
Of my Forefathers, though they ſpurn'd his Rule,
Rebell'd againſt his Throne, and curs'd him in their Soul."

APRIL 27.

They write from Toulon, that the ſquadron which is on the point of ſailing from thence, as ſuppoſed againſt the coaſts of Barbary, is to be re-inforced with two bomb-ketches, inſtead of one, and the Hirondelle frigate, ſo as to form in the whole eleven ſail. In the latitude of Gibraltar, theſe are to be joined again by another armament from Breſt; and it is aſſured, that to both, the Spaniards will add a third ſquadron, which is to proceed in conjunction with them on the ſame enterpriſe. The review of the French ſeamen at Toulon has been made, ſo that when theſe advices came away, they were quite ready to ſail.

APRIL 30.

It is rumoured our court hath lately received ſome propoſals relative to Corſica, highly meriting conſideration.

His Royal Highneſs the Duke of Glocester, has declared his intention of making a ſpeedy tour through England.

Friday laſt their Royal Highneſſes the Dukes of York and Glocester viſited the Foundling-Hoſpital, went through every ward, and were greatly ſatisfied with the appearance of the children. His Royal Highneſs the Duke of York ordered two of the moſt ingenious of them to be bound apprentices, and the Indentures to be made out in his Royal Highneſs's own name.

It is confidently ſaid, the Right Hon. the Earl of Rochford will ſoon be appointed Ambaſſador to the court of France, in the room of Lord Hertford, who returns to occupy one of the firſt departments in the ſtate.

The free importation of wheat will ſoon be allowed, in order to reduce the exorbitant price of corn.

MAY 2.

It is confidently ſaid, a great perſonage has declined, on account of his health, and the plan of life he has adopted, ſome very high offices obligingly preſſed upon him, with regard to aſſuming a conſiderable ſhare in the adminiſtration.

It is ſaid a noble Duke and Earl, with ſome other friends of Mr. Wilkes, will pay a viſit to that gentleman at Naples, ſoon after the breaking up of the parliament.

This morning came on the affair of Mr. Almon, in the court of King's-Bench, Weſtminſter, before the Right Hon. Lord Chief Juſtice Mansfield, when, after ſeveral learned arguments on both ſides the queſtion, the hon. the Judges thought proper to poſtpone it to a farther day.

They write from St. Malo, that no leſs than 230 ſail of veſſels, great and ſmall, have been fitted out from that ſingle port for the Newfoundland Cod fiſhery.

It is talked that the duty on coffee will be reduced to 6 d. per pound.

A waggoner of Briſtol has obtained a decree in chancery for an eſtate of between 5 and 600 l. of yearly rent, and 14 000 l. in caſh, [illegible] being kept 18 years out of his right, ten of which hath been [illegible] in chancery.

MAY 4.

[illegible]day came on in the Court of King's Bench, before the three [illegible]dges of that Court, the hearing relative to Mr. Almon's [illegible]. Mr. Serjeant Glyn, and Mr. Dunning, the defendant's [illegible]ted themſelves with equal energy and force of reaſoning [illegible]nethod of proceeding. They acknowledged it to be in [illegible] and on particular occaſions, ſtrictly conſtitutional: [illegible]ſed, however, that the affair before the court is not of [illegible]. They cited precedents to prove, that a Chief Juſtice, of the moſt indiſputable abilities, had declined the uſe of this mode of proceſs: This was the great Lord Coke. They obſerved, that the caſe now depending is the moſt important, and the moſt eſſentially intereſting to the liberty of the ſubject, of any that ever had been brought before that judicature: That the method of trial by a jury is the inherent, the native, the peculiar privilege and glory of Engliſhmen: That this mode of proceſs was originally founded on the beſt, and the moſt ſolid principles; and that the wiſdom of it had been approved by a long ſucceſſion of ages: That whenever it ſhould be deemed expedient to alter it, and to adopt any other method of procedure, the legiſlature, as it is the moſt proper judge of that expediency, ſo would it be the only proper authority to enforce the ſubjects obedience to it. Theſe arguments were copiouſly and learnedly anſwered by Mr. Attorney General, Mr. Solicitor General, Mr. Chief Juſtice of Cheſter, and Mr. Wallace, the counſel for the proſecution. Mr. Serjeant Glyn, by the favour of the court, was indulged with the liberty of replying, to which he was not entitled by law; when after a ſhort rejoinder by Mr. Attorney General, Sir John Eardley Wilmot, who, in the abſence of the Chief Juſtice preſided in court, having remarked, that the council on each ſide had learnedly and laudably diſcuſſed the queſtion, declared, that as the caſe was of great importance, his brethren and himſelf would take time to deliberate, and would fix ſome future day on which to give their opinion.

The eſtabliſhing of a regency has met with ſeveral obſtacles, and the opinions of ſome of the [illegible] have been taken on that occaſion; but we are well informed, that it is now ſettled in ſuch a manner as will admit of no oppoſition in either houſe of parliament; and 'tis thought it will be to the general ſatisfaction of the public.

It is ſaid, that not only a certain governor in North America is ordered home, but that a whole regiment is ordered to return from thence.

They write from Gibraltar, that the late apprehenſions of a defeat in the uſual ſupply of proviſions from the Barbary ſhore are removed; and that the Dey of Algiers had ordered all due honours of the flag to be rendered to his Majeſty's ſhips of war in the Mediterranean.

We hear, Mr. Kearſly's actions againſt Philip Carteret Webb, Eſq; and others, for the detainure of his ledger, and ſeveral books of account, will be tried in the ſittings after this term, before Lord chief juſtice Pratt, at Guildhall.

The eldeſt ſon of a great family, a youth of eighteen, has, we hear, lately eloped to Scotland with his mother's maid.

A man of faſhion, at the weſt end of the town, caſually looking out of the window, ſaw a poor woman ſoliciting one of his footmen, who happened to be at the door, to help her with a baſket of cloaths upon her head:—This the fellow, dreſſed up in all the inſolence of a laced waiſtcoat and bag wig, refuſed with diſdain, and even damned her pretty heartily for her impertinence: Upon which his maſter came down, put up the baſket with his own hands, and inſtantly turned the footman out of the houſe, for his inſolence and inhumanity.

We are informed from Pontefract in Yorkſhire, that there is one Potter, (a labouring man) and his wife, now living near that place, whoſe ages together make 213, the man being 108, and the woman 105 years of age.

WESTMINSTER RACES.

THE greateſt match that ever was made, is now depending between John Bull, Eſq're old blood-bay horſe Public, and Lord Caledon a's grey mare Regency. It is to be run over the Dodging Courſe, Public carrying twelve ſtone, Regency only a feather.

Public was got by Brunſwick Honeſty, his Grandſire by Revolution William a well-bred ſon of the famous horſe Liberty. Public's dam was Engliſh Beſs, that beat old Lord Bolingbroke's Mary Scot, daughter of Highlander. Engliſh Beſs was got by the Hampden Stallion, out of a Ludlow Mare, full ſiſter to Oliver Tartar, Parliament John, and Joyce's Lopptop, all of the old Blood of the Magna Charta Stallion.

Regency was got by the Stuart Stallion Scabby Jemmy, out of the Old Pretender's mare Paſſive Obedience, full ſiſter to Non-Reſiſtance, daughter to the Pope's milk white Stallion Infallibility, out of the noted Inquiſition Mare Firetail.

Scabby Jemmy is a ſon of Highland Mac, out of the terrible Mountain Mare Mangey Moggie, whoſe Blood is in high eſtimation at preſent, and preſerved in the Luton Stud.

The odds are at preſent ten to one Regency againſt Public, Public being very aged, and manifeſtly in a deep decline of conſtitution.

Public won ſeveral very great matches againſt Lewis Baboon, Eſqr's beſt cattle, and never was beat, when fairly and honeſtly rode. Public won the great Sweepſtakes over Culloden-moor, April 16, 1746, beating James Stuart, Eſqr's Highland Laddie, Lewis Baboon, Eſqr's Bravo, Mr. Provoſt's Flower of Edinburgh, the Manchester Gelding Wronghead, Mr. Wales's Watkin, and Mr. Iriſh's Whiteboy; but this was won, in a great meaſure, by the reſolution and ſkill of Will Royal, who rode him, as Public was almoſt run off his legs, and had been beat a little before in two matches, wholly owing to the want of judgment in his riders.

Public had moſt ſucceſs when rode by Will Royal, Brunſwick Ferdi, or Ned Hawk, and when trained and brought to the poſt by old Newcaſtle Tom, or Pinſent Will.

Public's legs began to ſwell, and to appear full of humours, about the time of ſigning the Peace of Paris; ſince which time his coat has never look'd well, and he has been very ſhort-winded, and quite out of order. It was a very near thing laſt year, between Public and the Scotch horſe Prerogative, Public winning by only half a neck, a very up-hill courſe, and Prerogative's rider, Jack Doubleſee, did not only croſs and joſtle, but made ſeveral attempts to throw old Public down, whoſe weakneſs he well knew; but honeſt Phil Jury-man, who rode Public, was too knowing for him. This laſt match ſtrained the old horſe very much, ſo that little can now be expected from the good old horſe, who is alſo very much overweighted.

Regency is now in very high condition, having been highly fed, and is ſo friſky, and has ſuch a way of kicking, that it is to be feared he will drive old Public quite out of the Courſe: The only chance Public can poſſibly have of winning, will be by having a very honeſt and able rider. It has been reported that Charles Changeable is to ride old Public, and wear a party-coloured black and white, or magpye jacket, but all well-wiſhers hope that it will be honeſt Pinſent Will in orange. Regency's rider is fixed, Sandy Stuart in plaid and a bonnet. However, we are ſorry to add, that it is alſo reported that Pinſent Will does not care to ride, as he ſays Public is very much out of condition, and has been growing ſo a-pace, ever ſince he loſt his good old Maſter George Steady, Eſq; whoſe chief delight was to take the greateſt care of Public, his only Favourite.

In caſe Pinſent Will ſhould decline riding, a good ſteady honeſt rider is wanted. Great encouragement will be given. Enquire at the Bar of Wildman's.

N. B. Croſſing and joſtling Regency's owners call fair-play.

MAY 7.

Extract of a letter from Mr. Wilkes, to his friend in London, dated Naples, March 25, 1765.

"I aſk L— M—'s pardon, for I was ſeveral days at Rome, and never once ſaw either the old Pretender, or the Cardinal of York, or his L——r's own brother, the titular viſcount of Dunbar, in his green ribbon, or his own ſiſter, the counteſs Inverneſs.

P. S. It is pretended and believed at the Pretender's Court, that L—— M ——— will be created a Knight of the Thiſtle upon the next promotion, which gives no ſmall ſatisfaction here."

Letters from Paris, dated the 24th paſt, bring an account, that an officer was arrived there from Hiſpaniola, with diſpatches, who adviſes, that all the French part of that iſland was in the greateſt confuſion, by the tyranny and oppreſſion of the governor count d'Eſtaing, who had arreſted ſeveral of the ringleaders of the late mutiny, and intended to ſend them to Old France to be puniſhed. It is alſo added, that a miſunderſtanding had happened between the ſaid count and the governor of the Spaniſh part of that iſland, the former alledging that the latter had excited the ſubjects of France to rebellion, which reflection, it was thought, would bring on a duel between the two governors.

We hear that 300 000 l. of the monies to be paid by the court of France, for the keeping of French priſoners, is to be applied for the ſervice of the preſent year.

We now hear, that the right hon. lord Walkworth will ſoon be inveſted with a public character, to put a finiſhing hand to an affair of great importance at the court of Copenhagen.

Yeſterday the right hon. Hans Stanley, one of the lords of the Admiralty, and of his Majeſty's privy council, took the oaths in the court of King's Bench, Weſtminſter Hall, to qualify himſelf for his office as Governor of the Iſle of Man.

We hear that a certain Admiral, who greatly diſtinguiſhed himſelf in the ſervice of his country in both the Indies, during the laſt war, will ſoon be called up to the houſe of peers.

We hear that an additional ſtamp duty of twenty ſhillings will be laid on every policy of aſſurance of a greater amount than one hundred pounds.

We hear a ſcheme for impoſing a tax of ten ſhillings per head on all apprentices indentured for ſea ſervice, is now under conſideration.

It has been computed, that a national ſaving, little ſhort of half a million ſterling, will be the reſult of encouraging the importation of ſhip and other timber from North-America.

Letters from Holland mention, that upwards of 400 Dutch Buſſes are now fitting for the White Herring Fiſhery off Shetland.

No leſs than four printing Preſſes are now getting ready to be ſhipt for America. A proof that the Republic of letters is beginning to flouriſh in that country.

It is ſaid that the free importation of wheat will be allowed 'till the 24th of Auguſt next.

We are credibly informed, that orders are diſpatched to our ambaſſador at the French court, to enquire into an act of the moſt horrid nature, ſome time ſince tranſacted at a convent in a capital city in the ſouth of that kingdom, and to have the people concerned therein brought to juſtice.

MAY 9.

It is doubted by ſeveral eminent lawyers, whether the attachment againſt Mr. Almon, will take place this term; becauſe the law books notice, that an attachment can only lie where the whole matter of contempt is ſo perfectly clear and certain, as not to admit of the leaſt doubt or heſitation; and they add, that when doubts or difficulties ariſe there a jury ought by all means to be called in; for if it were otherwiſe, every man in the kingdom would ſoon lie at the mercy of the king's miniſters and judges.

We hear his Majeſty propoſes to make a tour thro' the capital cities of England this ſummer.

It is ſaid, that a bill will be brought in, before the concluſion of this ſeſſion, for limiting the number of place-men, who ſhall ſit in parliament.

We hear that the free importation of all goods, manufactured in the Iſle of Man, will be permitted for the encouragement of manufacturers in that iſland.

An execution being placed in an eminent merchant's houſe in the city, many conjectures have ariſen relating to its legality, the ſaid merchant being a member of an auguſt aſſembly.

They write from Peterſburg, that the Empreſs has ordered an additional tax to be laid on all houſes built of wood, after the firſt of June next, in order to encourage her ſubjects to make uſe of ſtone or brick materials.

His Majeſty's new ſhip Victory is ordered to be rigged and maſted with all expedition, on board of which, it is ſaid, an admiral's flag will be hoiſted this ſummer in the Mediterranean.

It is talked that a ſcheme is on foot to lay a pound rate upon all eccleſiaſtical livings above a hundred a year, that a fund may be eſtabliſhed to keep the widows and families of inferior clergymen from the ſtate of penury and wretchedneſs in which we ſee them at preſent ſo frequently as well as ſo unhappily involved.

MAY 18.

Letters from Breſt ſay, that upwards of 3000 workmen are now employed in undermining Mount Charles, great part of which has been already blown up, and the whole is intended to be reduced to a level, on account that it overlooked the city and haven, and might have been extremely prejudicial, in caſe of any future attempt of an enemy on the land-ſide.

Veſſels from Liverpool and other parts of England, are going in ballaſt to foreign ports, to purchaſe and import grain of different kinds.

It is ſaid, conſiderable bets are laid that Mr. Wilkes's outlawry will be ſoon taken off, and that the ſaid gentleman will return to his native country, before the end of this ſummer.

We hear that a duty of 4 l. is to be laid on the admiſſion of every perſon into the four inns of court, and alſo a duty of 6 l. on the admiſſion of every perſon to the degree of barriſter at law, and that the monies ariſing from the ſaid duties are to be appropriated towards paying the judges ſalaries.

Letters from Warſaw, of the 24th paſt, mention, that a courier was arrived there, with the confirmed and poſitive accounts that the king of Pruſſia was erecting a fort at Marienweder, where he had ordered a duty to be eſtabliſhed on all veſſels that come down the Viſtula, from Poland to Dantzig, which will be a great prejudice to the republic, and which has not a little ſurpriſed the Polanders.

Letters from Peterſburg of the 15th paſt, bring advice, that the court of Ruſſia were well aſſured and ſatisfied that the Turks had no intention to break the peace with that Empire or the Kingdom of Poland.

They write from Gibraltar, that the naval Force of the Algerines, and the other piratical powers on the coaſt of Barbary, both within and without the Straights, was never known ſo ſtrong and numerous as at preſent, amounting in the whole to upwards of ninety cruizers, ſome of them mounting from twenty to fifty guns.

We hear a nobleman of the firſt diſtinction has this week been appointed, and will in a few days ſet out to execute a commiſſion of importance in his Majeſty's dominions in Germany.

They write from Minorca, that the workmen have for ſome time paſt been employed in conſtructing a large boom and chain, for ſecuring the entrance of St. Philip's harbour; which, when finiſhed, will be capable of reſiſting the greateſt force.

Admiral Rodney is now talked of, as the flag officer who is to relieve commodore Harriſon in the Mediterranean.

There does not appear to be any foundation for the report, that endeavours are now uſing towards reverſing the outlawry of a certain Engliſh exile now abroad.

Orders have been ſent to all the country gaolers, to ſend a compleat liſt of the priſoners now in cuſtody for debt.

We hear, that ſhould the inſolvent bill paſs this ſeſſions, great numbers of priſoners whoſe connections are entirely cut off by their long confinement, intend to petition for a voluntary tranſportation, on the government's account, to the new ſettlements in America.

It is ſaid that a bill will be brought into parliament to inquire into the nature of the penſions granted on the Iriſh eſtabliſhment, and to examine upon what account they have been ſo granted.

It is conjectured, that the Victory man of war is really intended for the reception of ſome royal perſonage, on her firſt going to ſea; as we hear a fine ſet of magnificent pinnaces, belonging to his Majeſty, are to be put on board her when compleatly rig'd.

After all that has been ſaid concerning the Canada paper-money, we do know from indubitable authority, that the payment of the bills drawn from that and the other American colonies on account of the French king, will not be made at once, but at different intervals, ſome of which will not commence for years to come, and that theſe payments will not even then be made but by the help of a lottery.

MAY 20.

A negociation for an alteration in the miniſtry, is ſaid to be certainly on the carpet. And ſome go ſo far as to ſay that the conſequence of

Our readers are deſired to ſtrike out the words "with very little aſſiſtance," from the paragraph in our laſt paper, relative to the ſilk cocoons, raiſed by the reverend Mr. Gibert;—as we have been ſince informed by himſelf, that Mr. Manigault not only encouraged his deſign by a generous offer of his plantation, but alſo by the uſe of a conſiderable number of negroes; and that he likewiſe had ſome aſſiſtance from other gentlemen in the neighbourhood of Silk-Hope.
